

CHINESE SOLDIERS BEYOND THE CONTROL OF GOVERNMENT NOW

LOOTING CONTINUES AND OFFICERS SEEM UNABLE TO PROTECT EVEN FOREIGNERS.

TROOPS SENT TO PEKIN

United States Soldiers in China Ordered to Hasten to the Capital to Protect American Interests.

Peking, March 2.—A serious recurrence of disorder occurred this morning when at 6 o'clock a detachment of military troops, headed by a band leader, entered the city and looted the streets. The troops were ordered to protect the city and to prevent the looting of property.

Turn Around. Although last night parties of soldiers were engaged in looting, today they are fighting the looters in the outskirts of the city.

Kill Looters. All prisoners taken by them are summarily decapitated and many headless bodies are lying in the streets in various parts of the city.

Shops Robbed. Whole streets of shops were looted and many houses set on fire. The city population is fleeing and the streets are empty.

Join Forces. The mutineers who left Peking for Pao-Ting-Fu yesterday and whom Yuan Shi Kai ordered to be arrested or killed by the garrison of that city, have been joined by many of the soldiers there.

They have looted a great party of Pao-Ting-Fu and burned large areas of the city.

Another Gang. Another gang of mutineers today visited and looted Sen-Tai, twenty miles from Peking, on the railway to Tien-Tsin. The British troops, who are guarding the railway there, protected the women and children, but the mutineers looted and burned the railway station and held up a train, robbing many of the Chinese passengers.

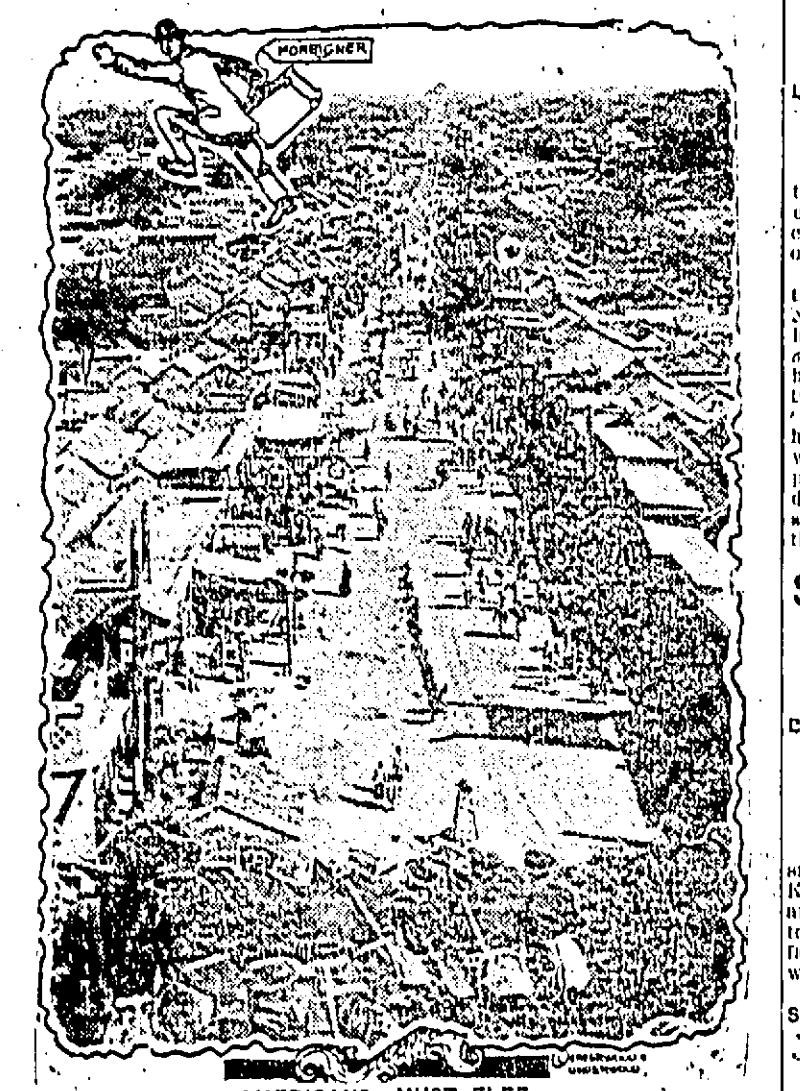

At Yung-Ping Fu. At Yung-Ping Fu, where the American troops are guarding the railway to Chin-Wang-Tao, was also looted today. It was evident that all the soldiers of the northern Chinese army are in an agreement in the pillaging movement. They are under the belief that the coming of the republican delegates from Nanking to Yuan Shi Kai means the dismissal of the northern troops from the service.

Republicans Active. The delegates have telegraphed today to Gen. Li-Yuen-Hsun, commander of the republican troops at Nanking, and vice president of the republic, to bring a republican army to Peking to restore order.

Is Powerless. The government is quite unable to cope with the situation at present and the foreign minister here is discussing concerted action. Yuan Shi Kai today promised to pardon all returning mutineers, but has not yet received any response. The populace has been notified that all persons found on the streets after eight o'clock tonight will be shot.

Complete Anarchy. Amoy, March 2.—Reports received here from Swatow, show that the situation there is becoming more serious every day.

every day. General Ling with five hundred troops from Wai-Chow has arrived in the city to suppress the disorders, and another body of one thousand troops is on the way there. The interior of the province is in a condition of complete anarchy.

AMERICANS MUST FLEE London, England.—The seriousness of the Chinese revolution, particularly as applied to foreigners in the nation, is so great that it is scarcely possible to overstate the present moment. An attack is expected at any minute, and this may result in death and loss of property to foreign residents.

ALL INDUSTRIES IN ENGLAND AFFECTED BY MINERS' STRIKE

Mine Owners Have Laid In Stores of Provisions Expecting Long Siege—Vessels Are Delayed.

London, Eng., March 2.—The great part of the United Kingdom, particularly situated in Wales from which coal is shipped to every part of the world, and the center of the iron and steel industries, has been virtually the first to feel the effects of the strike of over one million miners in England, Scotland and Wales.

Many iron works in various districts were closed today at Swansea and elsewhere. No vessels are arriving at the docks and the dockers and workmen employed in the local industries have been thrown out of work.

Great crowds of these men gathered in the streets discussing the dispute. Thus far they have caused no disturbance anywhere. In South Wales, however, the mine owners are preparing for emergencies. They have built walls around the mines and have laid in great stores of provisions in anticipation of a long siege.

The railways and street cars in many cities were still further curtailed today. Only two non-union mines in the country are still at work. One of them in North Wales and the other in Norfolk near the Scottish border.

The tin plate works of Wales are closing down rapidly owing to lack of coal. Six hundred mill will be idle within a few days, and 40,000 men who are employed there will be thrown out of work.

John Williams labor leader member of parliament for the Cower division of Glamorgan shire South Wales and general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of South Wales colliery workers told the Welsh miners at a meeting today he expects a settlement of the strike by Thursday next on lines satisfactory to both the men and employers. The price of food are rising rapidly every day.

MONTREAL BANK WAS LOOTED BY THIEVES

Police Formed 'Shot' One, Burglar While Other Four Escaped Without Spoils.

Montreal, Quebec, March 2.—One of five robbers who broke into a branch of the Royal bank early today at Montreal West, a junction on the Pacific Railway, five miles west of the city, was killed in a running fight with a resident last night. The neighborhood got the alarm of the robbery before the bandits got any loot. After exchanging shots the four escaped leaving the body of their companion behind.

KIMMEL CASE WENT TO THE JURY TODAY

St. Louis, March 2.—The Kimmel mystery and insurance case went to the jury today. Judge Ahlson referred to the testimony that if the defendant, Andrew J. Kimmel, is George Kimmel, he has undergone a remarkable physical change since his discharge in 1898.

OBJECT TO SPEAKER; HUNGARIANS IN RIOT

Lower House of Hungarian Parliament Starts Riot at Methods of Speaker Navay.

Budapest, March 2.—With disorder today marked the session of the lower house of the Hungarian parliament, culminating in the partial wrecking of the presidential tribune.

The members of the opposition objected to the methods of Mr. Navay, the speaker, in conducting the business of the house. There were several scuffles, a torrent of invective, howling and banging of desks, which turned the chamber into a bear pit.

Finally, Matthias Povaazy, an adherent of the independent group, whose leader is deputy, charged the presidential tribune and was rapidly demolishing it when the speaker suspended the sitting and retired from the house.

Milwaukee, March 2.—William Nichols, was today sentenced by Judge Backus, in municipal court to 4 years imprisonment at Waupun, upon his conviction of manslaughter in the third degree at his trial on the charge of murdering Berthold Klann on Sept. 13 last. A new trial was denied.

UNUSUAL STEPS BY CUSTOM OFFICIALS IN MORGAN'S CASE

Special Appraisers Sent Abroad to Watch the Packing of the Priceless Works of Art.

New York, March 2.—Unusual precautions have been taken by the custom house authorities to guard the treasures valued at many millions and imported by J. Pierpont Morgan from his European museum and gallery to this city during transit to their destination.

Cable dispatches from London state that Mr. Morgan has placed a valuation of twenty millions on the treasures while Michael Nathan, the official appraiser sent by the treasury department to inspect the art objects, believed that fifty million is a closer estimate.

The first shipment of the art works already has been received and another is expected within a few days. Not one of the works of art is handled by local examiners or appraisers.

The pieces in which they arrive are not even opened and the invoices of the list of articles describing the shipment are accepted without question and passed without examination.

Secretary of the Treasury McVeagh detailed deputy appraiser Nathan to go abroad and represent the custom house department at London to examine each article packed for shipment and know whether or not it is entitled to pass free of duty.

An unpacking of the shipment by custom house examiners might have caused injury or destruction to some of the priceless art treasures.

FIGHTING MINISTER'S HOME IS DESTROYED

Had Just Been Indicted for Perjury—Was Ardent Foe to the Liquor Traffic.

Fort Worth, Texas, March 2.—A few hours after Rev. J. Frank Morris, pastor of the First Baptist church, had been indicted of the charge of perjury his home burned last night. It came as a mysterious sequel to an equally mysterious chain of events in which the saloon fighting Baptist minister has figured. The most startling came last night when accused of perjury, Morris was charged with having written letters to himself in which he was threatened if he did not leave town. Morris first attracted attention by a campaign for enforcing the prohibition laws, when he declared an attempt had been made to assassinate him. This was followed by the burning of the First Baptist church. Morris declared repeated attempts had been made to take his life and he traveled with a body guard. After this he exhibited the warning letters which the grand jury declared Morris wrote to himself. Morris' charge has attracted a great deal of attention to his church.

TELEPHONE INVENTOR SIXTY-FIVE TODAY

The invention was placed on exhibition at the Philadelphia centennial exposition and a short time later the first practical line was put in operation between Boston and Salem. Professor Bell is one of the few great inventors who has lived to see the fruition of his invention and also reap the financial benefit of it. For a number of years the inventor has made Washington his winter residence. He has a summer home in Nova Scotia, where he has conducted experiments with a view of perfecting the flying-machine.

MEXICAN NEUTRALITY SUBJECT OF TAFT'S LAST PROCLAMATION

President and Cabinet Decide to Warn United States Citizens Concerning Neutrality Laws.

Washington, D. C., March 2.—At a cabinet conference at the White House today it was deemed expedient that President Taft issue a proclamation urging citizens of the United States to comply strictly with the neutrality laws of the United States in all matters affecting Mexico.

Out of Mexico. In effect, the proclamation is a warning to Americans to stay out of Mexico at this time. A note will be sent to American Ambassador Wilson at the City of Mexico directing him to inform Americans in Mexico to watch affairs closely and if the situation grows worse to quit the country.

Is in Bad Shape. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts declared at the White House today that the situation in Mexico was about as bad as it possibly could be.

"Our interests in Mexico continue to protest against conditions there."

State of Anarchy. "It is no use shutting our eyes to the fact that a state of anarchy exists there. I am against intervention, and I will oppose it, but still it is just like having a house afire next door."

Reports Meagre. Reports received at the State Department today were very meagre and consisted only of confirmatory advice of news agency telling of the falling of forty revolutionaries at the hands of the federalists. Quiet is said to continue at Ensenada and the situation at Vera Cruz seems unchanged.

Order Rifles. Madrid, Spain, March 2.—The Mexican government today ordered ten thousand carbines from a rifle factory in the city of Oviedo in the north of Spain.

LAWRENCE STRIKE IS STILL ON IN FORCE

Reported Increase in Wages Has No Effect in Stopping Present Disturbances.

Lawrence, Mass., March 2.—Despite yesterday's announcement of an increase in wages in all but two of the textile mills the strike situation does not seem to be any nearer a close than before the official notice was received. A number of the strikers' leaders are strong in their demands that the strike be continued in support of the original demand which is greatly more than the offer made by the mill owners.

The meeting of the general strike workers met today and had before it the matter of deciding on another conference between the sub-committee of the general strike committee and the officers of the American Woolen Co., and the executive committee. No children were sent from the city to Philadelphia today. The strikers having decided to postpone the departure because of the cases of fourteen children who were taken into custody some days ago.

Reach Washington. Washington, March 2.—The factory boys and the factory girls had their first meeting in Congress today, when they appeared as witnesses before the sub-committee of the house which is considering the necessity of investigation of the Lawrence, Mass., strike. Ten boys and three girls a part of the striking army of woolen workmen appeared to tell the committee hardships of life under the working conditions imposed by mill owners. The committee seeking full information called the children as witnesses. Carmella Tull, an Italian girl of 16 years, pretty and shy, was one of the exhibits. Two years ago she was caught in a loom and frightfully injured. Her scalp was torn from her head but no legal proceedings were instituted against the company. She still works in a woolen mill and with her father is the support of a family of seven. The aggregate amount of pay of father and daughter is $7.00 a week.

ANNIVERSARY OF TEXAS INDEPENDENCE OBSERVED.

Austin, Tex., March 2.—The sixtieth anniversary of the declaration of Texas independence was observed as a public holiday throughout the state today. In 1824 Mexico achieved her independence from Spain and established a republican government. Subsequently, the usurping government of Texas prohibited further immigration from the United States, fearing that the white settlers would not be dominated as were the Mexicans. Santa Anna, with whom the colonists sided, overruled the constitution of 1824, and declared himself a dictator. The Texans continued their efforts for the observance of the Mexican constitution, but, goaded by tyrannical oppression, held a convention at Washington on the Brazos. On March 2, 1836, this convention declared the independence of Texas and began the drafting of her constitution. Gen. Sam Houston was re-elected commander-in-chief of the Texas army and David G. Burnet was made president of the new republic.

EMPLOYEES OF KINGSTON, STREET RAILWAY STRIKE

JAIL SENTENCES ARE GIVEN SUFFRAGETTES

Two Months Each Is Term Meted Out to the Women Who Led the Recent Riots.

London, March 2.—Mrs. Pankhurst, Mrs. Llewellyn and Mrs. Marshall, the three leaders of the last window smashing campaign by which the suffragettes succeeded in paralyzing trades men were today sentenced to two months' imprisonment. They were the first of three of the one hundred and twenty-four women who were arrested in the course of the street demonstration and who are to be arraigned at the Bow Street police court chiefly on charges of causing wilful damage to stores on Bond, Piccadilly, Regent, St. Oxford, the Haymarket and the Strand as well as on the other busy shopping streets. The announcement was made today that the total damage done in the suffragette stone throwing manifestations was estimated at $25,000, and on behalf of the government the time had now arrived when the consideration which had hitherto been shown in connection with suffragette raids could no longer be allowed. The friendly audience that has hitherto been presented in police court suffragette prosecutions was absent and Mrs. Pankhurst and her companions faced an audience which was generally sympathetic of the storekeepers who had suffered damage. The sentence of the three leaders was received with applause.

On the delivery of the sentence by the magistrate Mrs. Pankhurst declared that she intended to go to prison and that the suffragettes were prepared to go to the fullest limit to show the government that women were going to secure the vote.

Sentences ranging from a fortnight to two months were pronounced on a number of prisoners but most of the women were committed for trial at the London sessions as the damage committed by each of them exceeded $25. About thirty cases were dealt with today the remainder being adjourned.

Roosevelt Says He Never Told Stimson He Was Not Going to Run for President.

Oyster Bay, March 2.—Col. Roosevelt dropped politics today and took a rest in preparation for the hard campaign which is before him. He said he hoped to spend most of the fortnight at home with a few trips to New York.

A report reached Oyster Bay today to the effect that Col. Roosevelt had assured two members of President Taft's cabinet that he would not accept the presidential nomination this year. Secretary Stimson and Meyer, according to the story, were said to have reached this understanding with Col. Roosevelt. "They never said so," said Col. Roosevelt today. "They never said so because they couldn't."

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS ENDORSES NEW TAX

BILL WHICH IS PRACTICALLY INCOME TAX SURE OF PASSING HOUSE.

SENATE'S ATTITUDE?

Long Discussion Among Leaders as to Reception of Bill in Senate.

Washington, D. C., March 2.—House and senate leaders of all shades of political belief gave themselves over today to a discussion of the sensational action of the house democratic caucus last night in endorsing what is, in effect, an income tax on all net incomes, including salaries, above $5,000 a year.

That the house will pass the measure by a party vote within the next ten days or two weeks, was taken for granted. Discussion, therefore, turned largely on the reception the bill would get in the senate.

Its fate there seems doubtful. In the senate, it is said that in all probability, party alignments will be broken, although party leaders make no such confession publicly.

Senator Smoot, of Utah, a member of the senate finance committee which will deal with the bill, declared there was no possibility of the measure passing in the senate.

"It is an income tax, pure and simple," he said.

Senator Kern of Indiana, who was democratic candidate for vice president in the last national campaign, said the measure was a good one.

"I am, and always have been in favor of an income tax," he said. "I am also in favor of franchise suffrage."

Senator Martin of Virginia, democratic leader of the senate, declared for the bill formed by his party in the house.

"The measure," he said, "is immensely wise and ought to pass. There is no doubt in my mind as to its constitutionality."

Senator Polk of Washington, progressive republican, said: "I am very much in favor of an income tax. I have been favoring it for years."

Senator McCombs of North Dakota, a member of the senate finance committee, expressed doubt if any change in the tariff on sugar would make any difference to the consumer.

He said the income tax proposal was lost in the supreme court of the United States by "every court of a divided court," and that the constitutionality of an income tax was a difficult matter to determine.

"Personally," he added, "I am inclined to think that Congress has the power to levy such a tax."

Senator Bacon of Georgia, one of the democratic leaders of the senate, did not attempt to speak for his party as he had no opportunity to talk with any senator regarding the bill.

He said, however, that if the bill passed the house it would find "sufficient support in the senate."

HOUSTON MAN TO CONTEST SEAT OF SENATOR BAILEY.

J. F. Walters Formally Opened His Campaign Today—Contest Will Be Three Corned One.

Temple, Texas, March 2.—J. F. Walters of Houston came to Temple today to formally open his campaign as a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Joseph W. Bailey. The recent withdrawal of Congressman Sheppard leaves the senatorial contest a three-cornered race between Walters, Congressman C. B. Randall of Sherman, and C. H. Johnson of Tyler. Notwithstanding the fact that state-wide prohibition has no direct bearing upon the senatorship, this question will be one of the chief issues of the campaign. It is the general opinion that the anti-prohibition vote will be divided between Walters and Randall. This may prove of benefit to Johnson, as he is the only prohibitionist in the race.

LOCAL TEAMS WIN AND LOSE DEBATES

NEGATIVES WIN UNANIMOUSLY IN ALL THREE PLACES AND TEAMS ARE AGAIN TIED.

THREE TEAMS ARE TIED

Janesville Debaters Made Excellent Showing in Beloit and Here Last Night.

Kenosha's high school debating team's great array of arguments for woman's suffrage were no match for the few, well-chosen and well-delivered points of the Janesville negative team last night who won the debate by the unanimous vote of the judges. The Janesville affirmative team, however, which went to Beloit, was defeated there, as was the affirmative team from Beloit which journeyed to Kenosha. The total number of points which each school made has not yet been definitely ascertained and there is considerable uncertainty yet as to whether Janesville is still in the running. Kenosha's score in her debate last night with Beloit in the deciding factor in the question of Janesville's eligibility.

Janesville's negative team which debated here last evening was composed of Lewis French, Stanley Judd and Glenn McArthur, who succeeded so well in their arguments against suffrage that they won the vote of all three judges. Their points were brief, well put and delivered in such a convincing manner that their opponents were outpointed in every way. Despite the fact that they had the side of the question which is being discussed more than the other and on which there are a greater number of arguments obtainable, the Kenosha boys did not begin to have the debate which the locals gave.

Following the musical numbers by the orchestra, and the Hunt Lyceum Glee club, Arthur M. Fisher of the Board of Education, in the capacity of chairman, brought up the question of the debate and introduced the first speaker on the affirmative side, Walter Huggan.

In opening the debate Mr. Huggan brought out the fact that woman nowadays are not so confined to their homes by household duties as in former years, and therefore have more time to devote to the politics of our country. Women who are allowed to bear all sorts of financial obligations and engage in worldly activities should be allowed also to vote. Man's lack of protection is shown by the large number of disappearances of bodies and girls in the cities and in travel.

Lewis French opened the negative debate in a very interesting and forceful manner, driving home his points and clinching them with unanswerable arguments. His contention that those who carry on the great financial and industrial activities of the world are not best fitted to govern the country by their votes was very well put. The head of the family, namely the man, is best fitted also to take the part of the family as a unit in political affairs.

Second on the affirmative came William Tronvik, who dwelt on the fact that women were the best fitted to carry on the educational institutions of the cities which were now being hampered by the lack of funds because of the inefficiency of the average council. Suffrage would remedy this evil by giving the women the right to have a word to say concerning the disbursement of the funds of the cities. In attempting to make too many points for suffrage, Mr. Tronvik was unwise, as he was forced to leave the really important points without the proper emphasis and his debate was too hurried.

Stanley Judd, the second speaker on the negative, entered into his subject with such earnestness and gave his points with such force that he carried the audience with him at once. The first of his debate was directed at the lack of reform found in states which at present have suffrage, and he showed why economic, financial and other of the great problems were naturally in the sphere of man's business rather than woman's.

In concluding the affirmative Alexander Obshchak mentioned the excellent child labor laws which had been passed in the western states where suffrage was recognized. Saloon men, and corruptors of city governments had been put down already by the women and the municipal affairs have been cleaned up in a remarkable manner.

The negative side was brought to a close by the leader, Glenn McArthur, who gave one of the best debates of the evening. His delivery was strong and forceful throughout and his arguments were pounded home with such force that they probably went a long way toward influencing the judges toward their decision. His arguments were an answer to the agitators who live here and claim that the evils, both social and industrial, of this state, will be cleaned up. He showed how the states now under a suffrage law had more and wider open saloons than ever before and that the morals of the people were worse than before. He showed how in these states than they were at present in Wisconsin. Montana's child labor laws were passed before suffrage was granted and besides this there were other states that had more effective welfare laws which did not have suffrage.

Wisconsin now has a law which covers all that could be asked for and which protects the children from the flagrant wrongs formerly practiced by the large employers.

Some time was taken up by the rebuttals of each side in which both speakers came back with strong replies to their opponents and to the judges were called on to give their decisions. The entire Janesville audience broke into cheering and handclapping when it was learned that the local team and the boys were showered with the congratulations of their school mates after the program had been brought to a close.

Affirmative at Beloit

Stanley Metcalf, Robert Cunningham and Thomas Foulkes upheld the affirmative side of the question against the Beloit team last night and were forced to return home defeated despite their best efforts. Each team was familiar with the other's points as they had debated before, and for this reason more depended upon the delivery. Their arguments were all well proved and they all got into their debates with great earnestness the decision going against them through no fault of their own. They were given in their former debate here in their efforts to prove that woman's suffrage was a good thing for the states of Wisconsin and Illinois.

PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR BIG GATHERING

Knights of Columbus Leave Sunday at Eight Fifty for Delavan on Special Train.

Janesville members of the Knights of Columbus will play an important part in the installation of the lodge of their order at Delavan on Sunday. They will travel to the Walworth county city by special train tomorrow morning leaving Janesville at 8:50 going via Beloit where the Beloit delegation will board the train and will return by special leaving Delavan at 10:30 tomorrow evening. It is expected the party will reach Delavan at 10:40 and will be four hundred strong, the Janesville, Beloit, Rockford and Monroe members being on the same train. Members from Racine, Kenosha and Burlington will also be present for the day's doings.

The candidates are some one hundred in number, gathered from several other nearby cities, besides Delavan, and these will meet at the opera house at 1:15 Sunday morning, going thence to St. Andrew's church in a body where Solomon High Mass will be celebrated at 10:30.

and gently reared, women will find in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives and mothers, that the one simple, wholesome laxative remedy which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally and which may be taken at any time, when the system needs a laxative, with perfect safety and really beneficial effects, is Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

It has that true delicacy of flavor which is so refreshing to the taste, that warming and grateful to the stomach which responds so favorably to its action and the laxative effect which is so beneficial to the system when, occasionally, its gentle cleansing is desired.

MRS. JOHN SWEENEY WILL GIVE RECITAL

Talented Janesville Pianist Appears Under Auspices of Apollo Club Monday Evening.

That there is a treat in store for the members of the Apollo club in the piano recital to be given by our townswoman Mrs. John Sweeney, will cause little surprise among those who know her musical ability. The next Apollo Club recital will be given by Mrs. Sweeney on Monday evening, March 11. It will be a treat no member of the club can afford to miss.

Mrs. Sweeney has had the advantage of study with some of the best teachers in this country and abroad, and enjoyed the friendship and instruction of Fannie Hummel and Zimier for several years and also had the privilege of study with MacDowell, the greatest American composer.

Again in Paris with Moszkowski and two seasons in Berlin with Zedlitz, one of the world's famous teachers and himself a pupil of Rubenstein and Liszt.

At present Mrs. Sweeney is president of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association. From the Chicago Musical Leader we quote the following in regard to her work in connection with the Teachers' Association:

"The new president is well-known among musicians and to the Association. Mrs. Sweeney has always been a great student and deeply interested in everything that pertains to the perfection of the teaching of music. She has studied with Clarence Eddy, MacDowell, Zedlitz, and also some of the most famous artists of the Old World."

Mrs. Sweeney has not appeared in any public performances in Janesville for some time and the press notices given her work in other cities would show that her musical ability is as appreciated abroad as well as at home.

LODGES ENTERTAINED AT A LEAP YEAR PARTY

Janesville City Lodge No. 90 and Rebekah Lodge No. 171. Had Good Program Thursday Night.

Janesville City Lodge No. 90 and Rebekah Lodge No. 171, I. O. O. F., entertained a leap year party at the West 5110 hall Thursday evening. A musical program was given by the Odd Fellows orchestra and members of the Rebekah lodge which was appreciated by over two hundred members present. One of the surprises of the evening was the presentation of two veteran jewels to Brothers A. P. Watson and Louis Trambilla. J. P. Carlo and Edward Smith made appropriate remarks in giving the presentation speeches. Both men are old members of the lodge and merited this distinguished recognition of their services.

A burlesque degree was conferred on an educated candidate which caused considerable amusement. Dancing followed the program and refreshments were served.

MAKES LIGHTNING-LIKE SPEED ON FROZEN RIVER.

Motor Car Racing on Ice Has New York by the Ears.

Thousands of persons, in peril of their lives, swarmed near the finish line of the first great race on the ice at Irvington-on-the-Hudson to watch the cars leap out of the snowcloud up the river, rear past and vanish in another snowcloud to the south.

The course was six miles in length and a monster Mercedes, a high-priced foreign built car, was closely followed by a Hudson, driven by Carl Muller, at the finish line.

It was opposite the home of John D. Archbold, now president of the Standard Oil, that the start was made. At the crack of the pistol, the machines leaped forward, the dry snow being kicked up by the tires. In less than a minute Tarrytown, the start, was left behind.

While several of the cars were brought to a complete halt because the snow was covering their radiators the sturdy Hudson and the monster Mercedes kept up the terrific pace of over a mile a minute on the ice.

It is believed that the speed made on the ice has seldom, if ever been equaled in race in which records have been shattered. So enthusiastic became the crowds that when they crowded to the finish line they risked their lives to get closer views of the neck and neck contestants. The enthusiasm was so great that several New York automobile men made the statement that they would endeavor to formulate plans for an international race on the ice before this season is over.

MILTON DEFEATED
IN A CLOSE GAME

Platteville Normal Winner in Fast
Basketball Game Thursday Night
by Score of 39 to 32.

(Special to this Gazette.)
Milton, March 1.—Platteville Normal's basketball team proved to be superior to the Milton college five in a fast and close game played on the local floor Thursday, by the score of 39 to 32. The local players took the lead at the beginning and were ahead until a few minutes before the end of the last half. At the end of the first half Milton had a margin of eight points over their opponents who had scored only 12. North and Dunn were the stars for Milton and did some fast work for Platteville and to the former goes the distinction of throwing the longest basket in the Milton gymnasium. The final score was 32 to 39 for Platteville who played with a rush in the last five minutes of the second half.

In the preliminary game the college second team defeated the high school team by the score of 27 to 5.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT
OPENED IN CHICAGO

Knights of Ten Pin Swarming Into Chicago To Take Part in Twelfth Annual Championship Match.

(Special to this Gazette.)
Chicago, Ill., March 2.—The greatest aggregation of tenpin players in the history of the sport has assembled in Chicago to take part in the twelfth annual championship tournament under the auspices of the American Bowling Congress, which begins tonight at the International Amphitheater, to continue three full weeks. From New York to San Francisco the alley men are swarming in, to compete for the honors and cash prizes and to enroll themselves as guests at the Chicago Bowling Tournament Company, host for the championship tournament. The company is headed by Charles A. Coniskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, who declares that nothing will be left undone to contribute to the entertainment of the visitors.

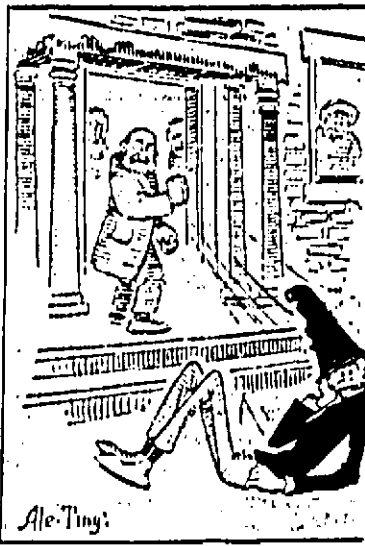

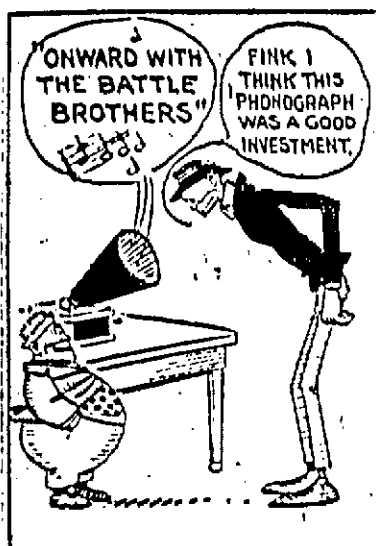

Many of the visitors will not reach town for a week or ten days, owing to the fact that the first week of the tournament will be given over entirely to the Chicago bowlers. Beginning a week from today the visiting teams and individual bowlers will have their innings. The hottest kind of competition is looked for in all the events, five-men, two-men and individual. Milwaukee, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, Omaha, Kansas City, Indianapolis, Buffalo, Denver, Seattle, Los Angeles and numerous other large cities of the country are sending their best players. South Bend, Hammond, Oshkosh and numerous smaller cities within a radius of 500 miles will have their men here, anxious to compare their skill with that of the big city players.

The annual meeting of the American Bowling Congress, controlling organization of the game, will be held next Friday, and when the election of new officers comes up a hot fight is looked for. Robert Bryson of Indianapolis, president of the organization for several years, has declined to run again and a spirited fight is on for the place between "Judge" Howard of Chicago, chairman of the executive committee, and J. D. Wooster Lambert of St. Louis.

GOLF ENTHUSIASTS
ARE STILL PLAYING

Several Golfers of This City Have Been Playing For Two or Three Weeks To Prepare
For Spring.

Golf during the past few weeks would seem rather impractical but a group of local golfers have been playing for some time to get into practice for next spring. The matches have taken place so far at the Y. M. C. A. where a large net has been stretched across the end of the auditorium. This net is divided into squares which represent the places where a certain length of drive would go. For example a long drive would have to hit a square near the top of the net and if it was to be a short shot the player would have to drive his ball into a lower square. The different irons are used for their special shots and the score is kept as on the links. One of the players recently made a score of thirty which is better than can be done on the links.

EMERALD GROVE GUN
CLUB HOLDS SHOOT

R. Scott Makes 17 Breaks and Wins
High Score at Shoot Yesterday—Gunners Hampered
by Cold.

Despite the cold weather the Emerald Grove gun club held their regular shoot yesterday afternoon although the scores were consequently low. R. Scott made the high score of the shoot with a total of 17 points which is very much lower than some previous marks set. After the warm weather begins to come they hope to make their scores more creditable and probably make them much higher. John Lyke acted as scorer again. On Friday, March 8, the club will hold its next shoot. Yesterday's scores were made up as follows:

The scores: R. Scott, 17; W. Conroy, 15; Geo. Hill, 14; John Hill, 13; Frank Lloyd, 12; Bert Godfrey, 12; A. Scott, 12; W. Williams, 11; A. Dodge, 10; Will Lloyd, 10; Will Paine, 9; Rule Chamberlain, 8; Milo Auld, 7; Graham McLean, 5; Bert Lloyd, 4.

ALUMNI-HIGH SCHOOL
CONTEST ON TONIGHT

Two Local Fives to Meet Tonight at High School For Second Game to Decide Supremacy.

Since their defeat by the Alumni a short time ago the High School team has been taking games away from everyone with whom they have come in contact and have not had a real hard rub from any of the several high school teams which they have played. This seems to make the outlook for the Alumni rather dark and the probability of a good fast game very good. With the High School team fighting for revenge upon their rivals and the Alumni five fighting to keep up their reputation the resulting contest surely promises to be at least interesting. The lineups will be as follows:

High School
Murphy ..... R.P. Cunningham
Groen ..... L.N. Korst
W. Hemming ..... C. V. Hemming
Brown ..... R.G. Elder
Langdon ..... L.G. Elder

Frohmman Knew.

It was reported to Charles Frohmman that one of his most prosperous male stars was in a fair way of getting married. "I don't believe it," answered the manager, who is himself a confirmed single man; "he will escape; he was always a good fighter."

RITCHIE TO MEET MURPHY.

South Bend, Ind.—One more star lightweight card is planned for South Bend, March 4, when Eddie Murphy of Boston and Willie Ritchie of California are expected to battle ten rounds. The only matter to be settled now is the terms that are to prevail. "Doc" Messager, a local promoter, is to stage the affair, and it probably will be held in the Oliver opera house in South Bend. Ritchie has made wonderful progress in the lightweight ranks since becoming East, having in all six bouts and winning in every action. Murphy, through his showing with McFarland recently at South Bend, has gained a host of friends and a bout between these two boys should be a dazzler.

Janesville in which he first went to the United Doctors who have their Janesville Institution in the Hayes Bldg., corner of Milwaukee and Main Sts. Mr. Hartshorn has been suffering for about five years and though doctoring almost constantly with other doctors before going to The United Doctors he obtained no relief. Finally he decided two weeks ago he would go to the United Doctors and see what they could do for him. The United Doctors informed him it would possibly take three months to bring him back to health though it might be accomplished in less time. Though he has treated now only two weeks with these expert specialists he has given them the following voluntary testimonial requesting it to be published.

Janesville, Wisconsin,
February 26, 1912.

Dear Doctors:—I wish to offer you voluntary testimonial regarding the great good you have done for me in a remarkably short space of time. I have been suffering for many years and it has greatly affected my work. I am a telegraph operator for the C. N. W. R.R. at S. Janesville. I would get dizzy spells that made it almost impossible to work at times and my hands would tremble so much I could hardly operate the telegraph keys.

I have only treated with you two weeks and feel that I am entirely well though I will continue treatment a while longer so as to get more strength. I tell everyone what you have done for me and would be glad to answer any queries from sick people who want to know what you have done for me. You can publish this testimonial for the benefit and encouragement of other ailing people. Thanking you for your kind and careful treatment of me.

Sincerely yours,
Signed, C. A. Hartshorn.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

President Underwood, of the Erie road, once issued an order that any car on the road with a flat wheel should be immediately cut out of the train. Not long afterward President

Underwood was hurrying East in his private car. He expected to wake up in Jersey City in the early morning and to get a start on the grid of work awaiting him in his office. But when he did wake up he found himself in a railroad yard 300 or 400 miles from New York, with his private car jammed up while car repair-ers were slipping a new pair of wheels underneath it. A car tinker was bossing the job and Underwood asked him, "Who gave you authority to cut out my car?"

"If you walk over to my coop," said the car tinker, "you will find my authority in orders from headquarters to cut out any car (no matter of what class of equipment) with a flat wheel."

"When the new wheels were in place President Underwood marched the car tinker uptown. The car tinker didn't know what was coming to him, but the president walked him straight into a jeweler's shop, picked out the best gold watch in the case and handed it to him, saying, "You keep right on obeying orders."—Edward Hammerford, in "The Modern Railroad."

The question as to the age of accountability has always been a debatable question, and is no nearer solution today than it was a long time ago, but the age of obedience is free from mystery, as the embryo mind discovers, long before it is able to reason.

The guardianship of child life is a sacred obligation, for while love and tender solicitude are in constant demand, the discipline of the home is equally important, and when this is neglected a grave injustice is committed.

The first law that a child knows anything about is the law of the home, and when this unwritten code is wisely administered, obedience follows, not as the result of fear, but through wholesome respect inspired by love. If the home is destitute of this sort of training, the child grows out into life with but little regard for law, and the lesson of obedience is difficult to master.

The early years of childhood are years of submission without question.

The word of command is law, and no

"back talk" is permitted, but there comes a time, a little later on, when a reason is demanded on many questions which seem to the child unreasonable, because we are not obedient to this still small voice.

Questions of right and wrong are never very difficult to decide and if we are disposed to do right they are usually decided right, but questions of expediency present a more difficult problem, and the only safe way to deal with them is to give them the benefit of the doubt.

This we are not always inclined to do. The man who places his money on the wheel of fortune knows that the odds are heavily against him, but he disregards the voice that he should obey, and takes the chance.

This is a true concerning all the alluring schemes which promise something for nothing. The gambling spirit possesses us and we become easy victims.

Warning signals remind us that we are traveling at too swift a pace, and we know that a physical breakdown is sure to follow, yet full to obey the voice, and physical wreckage results.

The young man who commences a life of dissipation knows that he will forfeit the confidence of his employer, and will soon find himself out of a position, but the temptation is stronger than the voice of warning, and he goes on to moral ruin.

The one power, which defies the authority of both God and man, is the power within us which we call the human will. If this greatest of all forces for both good and evil fails to come under subjection and obedience, early in life, it develops strength which holds us in relentless control and not infrequently ruins deadly.

The man who boasts of his moral fiber and claims that he can safely occupy ground which has proved dangerous to the average wayfarer, is never a strong man, and yet men are constantly invading this kind of territory. The weakest link represents the strength of a chain.

The success of all governments, from the home and school, to the state and nation, depends upon the disposition and ability to govern ourselves, and this means cheerful obedience to law. It is a mistaken notion that every man has a right to be a law unto himself.

Personal liberty is a product of the old world, and its disciples from across the seas are inclined to abuse

the freedom offered by this free land.

As a result, old time American customs, like the observance of the Sabbath, are ignored and trampled under foot. Liberty is transformed to license and license ignores all rights save the rights of the individual.

The spirit which possessed the old car tinker, is the right spirit. Obedience is the balance wheel which holds the forces of nature steady, and which contributes so freely to successful activity in every realm of life.

TRUE MARRIAGE.

Said my young friend:

"I tell you it requires a brave man or woman to get married nowadays."

"Why?"

"Look at the divorce courts! Note the articles running in the magazines, such as 'Why I Left My Husband,' or

'Why My Wife Left Me,' or 'Three Weeks Married and Out,' and so on."

Does look dangerous. But—

You must remember the story of a happy marriage is not "news." It is only the failures that are "played up" by the newspapers and exploited in magazine articles.

In the first place—

I believe the average person expects too much from marriage. Do not fancy that the state of matrimony is the New Jerusalem let down out of heaven. If you do you will be disappointed.

And, for that matter—

Did you ever have any experience of pleasure, long dwell upon, that came up to your expectations? Does anything of that sort "pan out" according to anticipation? Marriage is no exception to the rule of things human.

Marriage means adjustment.

When two persons begin to live with each other they discover that each must give up something. There must be in the household the two bears the old woman spots of bone and forbear.

You may be happy though married.

Bearing each other's burdens, forbearing each other in love, letting each day take care of its own problems, not expecting too much, bravely facing the future—that is the plain way to marital harmony.

"What about love?" you say.

That is first of all, of course. But love, mind you—love tested by marriage—is much more than sentiment and kisses.

Real love, the love that abides, is long suffering and kind, seeketh not its own. Love is devotion. Love is self sacrifice. Love is great respect for the other self.

And—

In two marriages you will discover that ten years from your wedding day your devotion toward your great respect for your high affection for your loved one is ten times greater.

And so on through the years.

WASHINGTON

ROY K. MOULTON

A TRIP TO M. T. VERNON.

Washington, Feb. 29th.

Dear Editor,

I have been down to Mount Vernon

and have seen

George Washington's bed. It is not a comfortable looking bed to say the least, and after looking it over I do not wonder that George couldn't lie. I saw a large number of other interesting relics while at Mt. Vernon, including a box of splinter school teachers from New Hampshire, who were there taking in the sights. I saw George Washington's uniform and George Washington's uniform, but when a colored gentleman showed me George Washington's telephone and tried to sell it to me for $25, I talked. There is a limit even to the susceptibility of a greenhorn from the north. George Washington never had a telephone, and I know it for if he had he would simply have been obliged to lie once in a while, when Martin got to calling him up at his office.

There may be some people, chiefly among the politicians, who have never heard of George Washington and his one most famous characteristic, but let me tell you, he is some one around in this locality. Besides playing the star part in all modern operations he was the father of his country.

Some people have disputed this and have tried to prove that the father of his country was Brigham Young, but I stick to George. I simply have to, for the other half of my sketch is a member of the D. A. R.

George must have been very busy in his day and generation. About everything that was done around here was done by him, and that is probably where the phrase originated: "Let George do it." At least this was the speculation of a drummer for a patent medicine trap concern who was a member of our rubberneck party. When we approached the residence I asked:

"Where's the place?"

"Where's George Washington's, sah."

"Is he here?"

"Oh, no, sah. Ah, ye all avah heard that he was dead?"

Here the mousetrap drummer tried

SCRIPTURE

Luke 15:17-19

And he spoke this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others:

Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extorioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.

I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

And the publican, standing afar off,

would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.

I tell you this man went down to his house justified rather than the other; for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them;

but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Suffer little children to come

I just extracted a tooth for a scared patient who was sure it was going to kill her.

"Why," said she, "That never hurt a bit."

TALK COUNTY FAIR AFTER SUCCESS OF MID-WINTER SHOW

PROPOSAL TO HOLD FAIR IN JANESVILLE THIS YEAR MEETS ENTHUSIASTIC APPROVAL.

PRIZES ARE AWARDED

N. R. Raessler of Beloit Takes Four Firsts and Two Seconds in Corn Exhibits—Other Awards Announced.

With the three days Mid-Winter Fair at the rink in a successful close today, considerable enthusiasm is shown by the exhibitors and by the business men of the city in response to the proposal to hold a county fair at the grounds of the Janesville Park Association this fall.

Secretary Lane of the Commercial Club declared today that such a fair was almost a certainty and if the interest shown in the mid-winter event can be taken as an indication of what could be done, a fair here this fall would be one of the best in the state. Several farmers and exhibitors at the present fair have already offered to donate substantial sums of money to further the movement and there is no doubt about raising the necessary funds.

It might easily be arranged according to some of the suggestions made, so that the fair in Janesville would not interfere with the Wisconsin event. However a combination of the two might be the more desirable plan and would secure greater harmony in the county. The organization of the County Fair Association has aroused interest among the farmers and the association will undoubtedly favor a fair in this city.

Big Attendance Today.

There was a larger attendance at the fair today than on either of the preceding days. Farmers came from all over the county and the building was packed with visitors. Every one seemed satisfied with the show and the large number of exhibits was cause for general remark.

The work of judging the exhibits was completed this morning. Owing to the large number of entries in the various classes of grain awards were not all made last night. Following are the prize winners:

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

For the information of the friends of the Salvation Army here concerning self-sufficiency, I will say that a special effort is being made in behalf of the work. The following is the substance of the message of Commissioner of the Salvation Army, in charge of the western territory of the Army, addressed to his committee and friends.

The object of the self-sufficiency drive to our minds the great work of our blessed army and how God has blessed it all over the world, and how much we all owe to the grand world-enriching warriors of the cross. It also reminds us of the great need for more devotion, more effort and more enterprise if we would accomplish our task. Ours is a great privilege, in a great opportunity and a great responsibility. May God help us to realize this more fully. Perhaps one of the things that has turned the attention of the whole world to our movement more than anything else has been the spirit of sacrifice that the rank and file of the army have manifested their willingness to give their time and talent and material possessions to the cause of God and humanity, and their unswerving endeavor to persuade men and women everywhere to do likewise. A man is living far beneath his privileges and highest sense of duty.

A KIDNEY REMEDY YOU SHOULD USE.

Undoubtedly the kidneys are greatly irritated and abused through excessive coffee, beer and liquor drinking also indiscretion in eating brings on a long list of kidney troubles. Patent medicines kidney remedies depend mostly on spray of nitro or salt pure for their action. These remedies only aggravate the trouble by irritating the mucous membranes.

Your kidneys need mild soothing, tonic remedies like Buchu, Uva Ursi, Couch Grass, Aparagus, etc., combined in the right proportion as you find them in our Kidney Pills.

Sending urine prostrate trouble, backache, offensive urine, gravel, all irritation of kidneys and bladder are quickly relieved by these pills. Their soothing action is felt in a few days.

Mr. Plonk, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist would be pleased to give you full advice for their use. Remember they are not a secret patent pill but a sure remedy safe to use. Made after the best prescription for all kidney and bladder trouble, sold or mailed anywhere for 60c. Bulfinch Drug Co., Milwaukee and River streets. What Chiropractic Will Do For Those Who Suffer.

Chiropractic Adjustments Offer You Freedom From Physical Trouble and Disease. Hundreds Are Getting Well—Chiropractic the Greatest Discovery Mankind Has Ever Seen.

You would never suffer an ache or pain or experience a "back day" if your nerves were all passing through openings in the spine like the first one between vertebrae 1 and 2. With such a spine all the secretory organs within the body would be highly active and all poisonous matter upon entering the body would be quickly ejected.

The only place where spinal nerves can be interfered with, causing disease, is in the openings between the vertebrae (spinal segments).

When one of the spinal bones subluxates (out of position) due sometimes to a jar, fall or wrench, it closes the opening sometimes as much as half, as in the second opening of the illustration, between the two vertebrae, in such cases the life current from the brain to the organ the nerve supplies is shut off 50%. Every organ of the human body should receive 100% of life current from the brain to perform its proper functions. In case of the organ receiving but 50% of current, due to an obstruction along the nerve leading to that organ, there would be a diseased condition in the part the impeded nerve supplies.

This nerve pressure is the cause of disease.

CHIROPRACTIC FINDS THE CAUSE OF ALL DISEASE AND REMOVES IT BY MAKING THE OPENING BETWEEN THE VERTEBRAE LIKE THE FIRST ONE IN CUT.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: "I am 49 years of age I suffered 4 years ago with appendicitis and the doctor said that if I have my appendix removed, I would get well. He removed the appendix all right or at least he claimed he did, but I learned to my sorrow that I got worse than better, for I felt me in such a nervous condition that I would drop down whenever I chanced to be on my feet and could not sleep at all or stand still. After suffering for 4 years and trying several other doctors without getting any help, I was prevailed upon by friends to go and try Puddicombe & Imlay, the Chiropractors, and now I find I did for after the first adjustment I could sleep all night which I have not done for over 4 years and I have not had a fall for a week and the nervousness is almost gone and I can't help but think that they are going to bring me out all right. I am giving this testimonial not for personal gain for the Chiropractors but to warn others who may be led to the same trap I was. Don't submit to an operation until you have called on the Chiropractors for they will locate the cause of your trouble in your spine and by removing the cause your disease or trouble will leave you and they will also tell you whether or not they can do anything for you before they take your case. I cannot find words to express my feeling for the good J. N. Imlay has done already for me."

PHIOMATHEA GAVE PROGRAM WEDNESDAY

Training School Literary Society Has Parliamentary Practice—Enjoyed Picnic Dinner Tuesday.

The Phiomathean program Wednesday afternoon was extremely interesting and somewhat unique. For roll call we had conundrums, all taking a hand in the guessing. The main part of the program consisted in the recitation of personal experiences by the members of the society. Many of these were good. Edna Badger had charge of the parliamentary practice, and her special point was the subject of amendments, proper and improper.

We have no practice teaching next week, giving us a little breathing spell, and time to prepare for the next series of classes.

A number of our students had a postcard group picture made a couple of weeks ago, and we are all going to try it next week. A good cut of the graduating class will appear in our next edition.

On Thursday considerable time was spent by two of the classes preparing special indexes to our school magazines and journals. This will enable us to find material more readily when it is needed. Indexes on Reading, Agriculture, etc., are made out.

We will close next week Friday for the meeting of the S. W. T. A. at Madison. This promises to be a fine meeting.

Several of our girls were out Monday on account of the big storm. Some could not get in on the train and were snowed out in the country.

J. E. Lewis, representing the Baker Paper company of Oshkosh, and N. O. Wilson of Chicago, were callers at the office this week.

Our principal speaks to the Y. M. C. A. boys at Clinton Sunday afternoon.

Miss Antidel was a visitor at the training school Thursday afternoon.

We all had a most enjoyable time Tuesday noon in the training school rooms, on which occasion we had a picnic dinner together. Hot coffee, doughnuts, sandwiches, fruit, etc., were kindly rolled, and the good social spirit prevailing was much appreciated by students and teachers.

Miss Nelson followed the dinner, Mrs. Hyde lending her assistance most efficiently in this respect.

Our practice teachers have made a special study of teaching beginners to read.

Notwithstanding our janitor's serious difficulties with the furnace and boiler he has kept our rooms very comfortable at all times.

The writing class has had special blackboard drill the past two weeks. This greatly benefits our student teachers who find it necessary to put written work upon the blackboard in the various grade rooms.

Irene Decker is out of school owing to the sickness of her mother.

Miss Nelson, who was apparently threatened with an attack of typhoid fever, is now able to resume her school duties.

ANNIVERSARY OBSERVANCE

A program will be given consisting of musical numbers and an address by the Rev. L. T. Hagaman, D. D., pastor of Grand Avenue Methodist church, Milwaukee. Solos will be sung by William Austin and Miss Cora Anderson, and a mixed quartet will sing several selections. Refreshments will be served by the Ladies Aid society.

WARMER AND STORMY IS MARCH FORECAST

Freezing and Thawing Weather Will be Prevalent During Present Month, Says Foster.

Copyrighted 1912, by W. T. Foster. Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent March 4 to 8, warm wave 3 to 7, cool wave 8 to 10. This will bring the warmest weather of March, is expected to cause a thaw in some of the winter grain sections. The freezing and thawing that will result is expected to damage all winter grain.

On account of these frequent alternate freezing and thawing expected April crop weather will show very considerable damages to winter grain because such freezing and thawing is by experience, shown to be the greatest drawback to winter wheat, rye and other winter grains.

Warm and Stormy. Next disturbance will reach the Pacific coast about March 9, cross Pacific slope by close of 10th, great central valleys 11 to 13, eastern sections 14. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about March 9, great central valleys 11, eastern sections 13. Cool wave will cross Pacific slope about March 12, great central valleys 11, eastern sections 16.

Temperatures of this section will average warmer than usual and the weather will be more severe. The cool wave will cause freezing but not very cold weather in northern sections. Most rainfall will be in southern states while this storm wave is passing. But the upper Mississippi some part of the upper Missouri and Manitoba will get rains or snows. Heavy rains are promised in the San Francisco valleys.

The warm weather first part of March is liable to mislead to early gardening. Gardeners should be careful till after March 28. All tender out door plants should be protected from that cold spell.

Sectional Drouths. The Southern States are promised splendid early weather for early truck farming and early gardening and they should make the most of it. Dry weather may not be so good later on. Of course some parts of the south will be too dry but most sections will have abundance of rain. The cold weather of March will probably not reach the early truck farmers of the south.

We have had sectional drouths for three years and it would seem natural that this year be excused from such crop destroyers. I am not predicting a general drouth nor a general failure of crops but we are not yet done with the sectional drouths. Large sections of the continent are sure to be visited by serious drouth the coming crop season and very much will depend on the kind of crops put in and how.

Some sections will have an abundance of rain and there the seed should be planted, for wet weather while in the drouth sections the very early maturing crops should be planted on the uplands and the late maturing on the low and flat lands. In large sections the late potato crop will be a failure.

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn, Headache and other Distresses will go in Five Minutes.

If you had some Diapepsin handy and would take a little now your stomach distress or indigestion would vanish in five minutes and you would feel fine.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome sour, out-of-order stomach before you realize it.

If your meals don't tempt you, or if you feel a little out of sorts, or if you feel like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Diapepsin and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour ratings, no belching or undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides there will be no undigested food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

PROHIBIT SALE OF LIQUOR ON TRAINS

Railroads Take Action on the Liquor Question Which Will Affect Many Travelers.

Janesville travelers who have been used to ordering their dinner trains while journeying through Illinois, will be surprised to learn that they must forego the usual side buffet, the railroad having decided that in the future their trains will be local option territory strictly. The law went into effect on Thursday night at midnight on passenger trains of seven railroads operating in Illinois. The law is down tight to as far as the railroads can make it.

The roads which prohibit the sale of liquor are:

The Union, the Wabash, Rock Island and Illinois Central, Chicago & Alton, Chicago Great Western, Chicago & Eastern Illinois, Chicago & Northwestern, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

This action was a recognition of a doubt on the part of the railroad heads as to the right to sell drinks on the dining, club and buffet cars. This doubt has existed since the passage of a law by the last legislature.

Under this law sale of drinks was prohibited on certain specified parts of passenger trains, although it was first announced that the dining, club and buffet cars were exempt from its provisions.

C. R. BANNERMAN

Reo the Fifth $1,055

Top and windshield not included in price. We equip this car with mohair top, side curtains and slip-cover, windshield, gas tank and speedometer—all for $100 extra. Self-starter, if wanted, $25 extra.

The Center, Cane-Handle Control No Side Levers---No Reaching

The most unique feature in Reo the Fifth is this center control, shaped like a cane handle. It is our invention—our exclusive feature.

This car has no side levers—nothing in the way. The driver gets out on either side as easily as you climb from the fount.

Both brakes are worked by foot pedals. Either or both of them can be applied without taking the hand from the wheel.

The gear shifting is done by this center cane handle. The handle straight up means transmission on neutral. One slight motion takes you to low speed, another to intermediate, another to high speed and another to reverse.

Each of these movements is in a different direction. And the top of the handle, in changing from one to another hardly moves more than three inches. So the handle is not in the way.

No danger of gear stripping. No noise at all. There was never before a gear shifting device even one-fourth so convenient and simple.

In Reo the Fifth the driver sits—as he should sit—on the left-hand side. He is then close to the cars which he passes. He is on the up side of the road. He can look behind in making a turn.

This has always been so on electric cars. But with gasoline cars, where there are side levers, the driver is compelled to sit on the right side. And that means the wrong side for driving.

Fore doors have now made side levers impracticable. They come too close to the door. This fact is compelling a center control, to which all cars must come. And this center control enables the driver to sit on the left side—on the proper side of his car.

It is so in Reo the Fifth. But, in addition to that, we have rid the car of both the brake lever and gear lever.

Those are a few of the ways in which this new Reo model shows its up-to-dateness.

Nickled steel axles, Timken and Hignatt roller bearings throughout, nothing better made.

Carburetor doubly heated, by hot air and hot water, this insures a positive mixture with low grade gasoline.

Nickled trimmed, no brass to polish. A feature found only in high priced cars is the detachable rims, off and on again in five minutes, no pumping up tires on the road in the hot sun.

Ventilator in dash and many other features found only in high priced cars.

We now have a carload of these Autos on our sales room floor; should be pleased to have you call and let us explain all the grand features in the Great Reo The Fifth.

If in need of a delivery truck drop us a card and we will call on you.

We are also Agents for the Brush runabout and The Hudson 33.

The subject is, "Institutions and Missions of the United Norwegian Lutheran Church," everybody is cordially invited.

At the M. E. church Sunday morning the Rev. Salsbury will preach the fourth of a series of sermons on "Some Conversations of Jesus Christ." The three preceding sermons from the text, "Ye must be born again," "Is not this the Christ?" and "Simon, I have something to say to thee," have been remarkably for the clear dramatic portrayal of the scenes and for the practical truths that have been thrust home to the hearts of the hearers. This will probably be the last of the series. You are invited to be present.

There will be no preaching services in the evening as the Rev. Salsbury preaches in the Plymouth church at that time.

AUTOMOBILE MUSEUM SHOULD BE STARTED

Movement Must Be Begun Soon if Pioneer Models Are To Be Obtained—Most Already Destroyed.

George M. Dickson suggests a Motor Museum. He declares that the time has come for such a museum as appears, that a glance at history will show the need and importance of it. He calls attention to the fact that if tangible records of the inception of this great industry and its marvelous growth and development are to be preserved for posterity it should be done now before it is too late.

Dickson says that although modern motoring is only about 17 or 18 years old, if we are to preserve relics we must hurry. Already most of the pioneer cars are destroyed, or if they are still in existence they have undergone such alterations that they are no longer of their original identity and value for a museum.

He also says: "The present efficient motor car, powerful, beautiful, comfortable and in fact elegantly superb does not tell to the casual observer, more than its intrinsic merit and the resultant service and pleasure for the owner. But to those who have concentrated on this type of vehicle for a few years it marks one of history's most phenomenal works of man's brain and brawn. I would like to see the American Automobile Association fall in line with our brothers in London and launch a movement at once to collect these old cars, and parts, and assemble them at Washington or some other logical center for historical purposes. I am sure there would be no other collection as interesting or as valuable."

LOCOMOTIVES SAID TO BE HEAVY WORK

Firemen Object to Shoveling Three Tons of Coal an Hour into
The Fire Box.

Locomotive firemen on fifty-one railroads running west are preparing demands for improved working conditions which will greatly add to the pay rolls of the companies. Committees of firemen from all the systems were in Chicago for several days for muting demands, which they contemplated and decided to submit to a referendum vote of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. The committee expect to return to Chicago in six weeks when the result of the vote will be tabulated and conferences will be asked with the general managers.

No general increase in wages is to be asked by the men, but they assert that the large engines being used and the heavy trains being hauled have added to their work so that changes in hours and conditions must be made. The firemen on the average freight train has to shovel about three tons of coal an hour into the firebox, and they say that at the end of a long run the men are completely exhausted. The committees have not made known the specific changes they demand, but they include a reduction in the hours of continuous service.

PHONE COMPANY WILL PROTECT ITS EMPLOYEES
FROM THE LOAN SHARKS

Relief for employees who are in the clutches of loan sharks and the menace to avoid falling into their clutches in the future are the two important features of a plan now going into effect in the Wisconsin Telephone company. It has been a rule heretofore among large corporations to discharge employees who allowed their wages to be garnished. Now, in the telephone organization this is all past. Any employee who has assigned his wages or salary as security for a loan at illegal interest is asked to report the full details of the transaction to his superior in the exchange or department. If the debt was incurred for a worthy purpose, as, for instance, to meet the expenses of sickness or death in the family, the case will be referred to a bureau connected with the legal department of the company, which will settle with the loan shark, on behalf of the employee, who will then be expected to repay the amount advanced in easy installments.

Settlement with the money-lender will be made strictly on the basis of the legal rate of interest. If this is not accepted, the company will fight the case on behalf of the employee through the courts if necessary. To avoid the necessity of future dealing with professional money-lenders, the office of the company will establish a fund out of which loans will be made to employees who need money for legitimate and worthy purposes, and the rate of interest will be only nominal.

The Pyramid.
Vast as modern skyscrapers are, not one has yet equaled the weight and massiveness of the pile of great stones which the swarming human ants of the Nile valley laboriously dragged together thousands of years ago, until they had built the Pyramid of Cheops. It would make a solid block of 600 feet square and 350 feet high.

At The Theatre

"THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER."
That "The Chocolate Soldier" has put to rest the growing distance of the American people for light opera, and has carried off the honors of war for the last two seasons, is evidenced by its third triumph campaign, now well under way, with a veteran company of Chocolate Soldiers and Chocolate Soldieresses under the direction of Mr. Whitney. The operatic band will be at Myers Theatre in this city on Tuesday evening March 5, to win unconditional surrender from the music lovers of Janesville to the charms of Oscar Straus' melodies, and the thousand and one delights to be found in the comic situations of Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man," from which the libretto of "The Chocolate Soldier" has been taken.

Mr. Whitney has this year assembled a company individual and united talents of which made the performance of "The Chocolate Soldier" worthy of remembrance among performers of "The Chocolate Soldier" of many a season past. He long ago abandoned the "star" theory, which has been the undoing of so many companies, and consequently mediocrity and weakness are unknown even in the smallest roles of his productions. A company of picked musicians travel with the Whitney Opera Company to give the finest possible orchestral support to the players. In equipping "The Chocolate Soldier" new with scenery and costumes, Mr. Whitney has rivalled his own accomplishments in former seasons of the opera. Everything has been done on a more sumptuous scale than heretofore. The wilderness of the Bulgarian landscape, the picturesque costumes of the soldiers and peasants, the profusion of ornament and the safety of color representative of the tastes of the people, offer opportunities that Mr. Whitney has improved with all the resources at his command. The role sung by Miss Frances Hewitt (Nadine) gives opportunity for a display of her beautiful voice which has been heard here in grand opera roles. The same night the Chocolate Soldier in a most delightful vein. Then there is cute little Emma Loomis and Dorce J. Russell Powell, both of whom make their respective roles of Mascha and Maschakoff stand out as artistic gems. J. F. McDonough as Alexius leaves nothing to be desired and the Kasimir of Nelson Riley is a joy forever.

"THE SERVANT IN THE HOUSE."
"The Servant in the House," which will be seen at the Myers Theatre on Tuesday, March 12, began its remarkable career in Washington, D. C. On the morning after the premiere, the Washington Post said: "A more powerful play has not been seen in the present generation. It was written by Charles Harn Kennedy, whose command of pure English would gain for him an enviable reputation were he lacking in all other qualifications; a more damaging attack on hypocrisy than can be found in a dozen plays by Henry Arthur Jones; a play in whose quietly spoken lines stir the emotions more deeply than vivid pictures of action and which start a train of thought not easily abandoned by even those who prefer not to think."

One Index of Character.
"A man's garden," says the Garden- ing World, "may be looked upon as an index of his mind; stoth and ignorance go together." It is the early gardener who catches the word.

THEODORE H. KIRK.
NEW TOBACCO KING.

Lexington, Ky.—This is a photograph of Theodore H. Kirk, of Covington, Ky., and Cincinnati, Ohio, the only man who has ever entered into a real tobacco-purchasing campaign against the American Tobacco Company, called "the trust," before its dissolution at Supreme court order, and its allied or subsidiary companies. Kirk has bought eighteen million pounds of the 1909 pooled crop of the United Tobacco Society of Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana, which was pooled under common agreement by one hundred thousand farmers of those three states to be held until it could all be sold at a high price. About seventy million pounds were sold two years ago, but twenty-five million were left in the pool holdings. It looked like the long wait for better prices was going to be in vain, when suddenly Kirk began to make negotiations with the United Tobacco Society here. He purchased one lot of ten million pounds and later made two other purchases, making altogether eighteen million pounds he has purchased. He has paid an average of sixteen cents per pound for the entire amount. He is now the real "tobacco king" of the South, and is expected to buy a large part of the present crop, which will be pooled beginning March 1.

years is quite as important a question to the inner circle of society as is the Presidential candidacy to the country at large. The wives of Presidential aspirants are watching each political move with intensity and interest scarcely appreciated by those not familiar with the ups and downs of political life. The above "better halves" of Presidential aspirants are only part of the field this year. In addition there is Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the New Jersey governor; Mrs. Judson Harmon, wife of the Ohio governor, and many others who might be mentioned.

You'll Get One Too After You See The Everitt

EVERITT "SIX-48" $1850

Equipped with self-starter, top, windshield, speedometer, Prest-O-Lite tank, especially designed tire irons on rear, horn, tools, etc.

Quite properly no newspaper will permit any motor car salesman to point out those features in which his car excels other cars—and mention those cars by name. . . .

But there are some truths about the Everitt so big and so overshadowing that they cannot be hidden or held down.

This censorship cannot restrain us from telling you, for instance, that there is no car in the market—no six-cylinder car of equal wheelbase, horsepower, equipment, and proportion of chrome nickel steel construction—at $1850 or anything like that price.

This censorship can't keep that impressive fact away from you, because it is the simple truth.

And, again, this censorship cannot restrain us from urging you to call up to your mind's eye a picture of the car you admire most, in either the four cylinder or six cylinder field—and then urging you to compare that car with the extraordinary Everitt specifications.

If it is a four cylinder car that you picture selling from $1800 to $3500—the likelihood is that it will fall hopelessly behind the Everitt "Six-48" in horsepower, in wheelbase, in the proportion of high calibre steel used in the construction. It probably will not equal the Everitt in giving you a complete equipment, a self-starter, demountable rims.

And if it is a six-cylinder car and includes some—or even all—of the extraordinary Everitt features, you will find that the price is twice or thrice the Everitt price.

And that is the deliberate purpose of this announcement—to induce you by argument and comparison, to make a deadly parallel in your own mind between what $1850 buys you in the great big beautiful Everitt "Six" surging with power and replete with luxuries; and

First, what the same or larger amount will buy in the four-cylinder field; and Second, what the same splendid features of value will cost you in the six-cylinder field.

If you can make your mind follow the subject to the length of making such a comparison—you're bound to go and seek an Everitt demonstration—and that inevitably means Everitt ownership.

THE WAY OF A MAN

By EMERSON HOUGH

Copyright, 1907, by the Outing Publishing Company

oned her against the pillar. She flushed at this and caught at my arm with both hands, which made me smile, for few men in that country could have put away my arms from the stone until I liked. Then I bent and kissed her fair and took what revenge was due our girls for her Philadelphia manners.

When she boxed my ears I kissed her once more. Had she not at that smile at me a little I should have been a boor, I admit. As she did and as I in my innocence supposed all girls did, I presume I may be called but a man as men go. Miss Grace grew very rosy for a Sheraton, but her eyes were bright. So I threw my hat on the grass by the side of the gate and bowed her to be seated. We sat and looked up the lane which wound on to the big Sheraton house and up the red road which led from their farm over toward our lands, the John Cowles farm, which had been three generations in our family as against four on the part of the Sheratons' holdings—a fact which I think always ranked us in the Sheraton soul a trifle lower than themselves.

We were neighbors, Miss Grace and I, and as I lazily looked out over the red road, unoccupied at the time by even the wabbling wheel of some negro's cart, I said to her some word of our being neighbors and of its being no sin for neighbors to exchange the courtesy of a greeting when they met upon such a morning. This seemed not to please her. Indeed, I opine that the best way of a man with a maid is to make no manner of speech whatsoever before or after any such incident as this.

I would have put out an arm for further mistreatment, but all at once I pulled up. What was I coming to, I, John Cowles, this morning when the bees droned fat and the flowers made fragrant all the air? I was no boy, but a man grown, and, ruthless as I was, I had all the breeding the land could give me, full Virginia training as to what a gentleman should be. And a gentleman, unless he may travel all a road, does not set foot too far into it when he sees that he is taken at what seems his wish. So now I said how glad I was that she had come back from school, though a fine lady now and no doubt forgetful of her friends, of myself, who once caught young rabbits and birds for her and made nests for the little pink pigs at the orchard edge and all of that. But she had no mind, it seemed to me, to talk of these old days, and, though now some sort of wall seemed to me to arise between us as we sat there on the bank blowing at dandelions and pulling loose grass blades and humming a bit of tune now and then as young persons will, still, thick headed as I was, it was in some way made apparent to me that I was quite as willing the wall should be there as she herself was willing.

My mother had mentioned Miss Grace Sheraton to me before. My father had never opposed my riding over now and then to the Sheraton gates. There were no better families in our country than these two. There was no reason why I should feel troubled. Yet as I looked out into the haze of the hills where the red road appeared to leap off where to meet the distant rim of the blue ridge I seemed to hear some whispered warning. I was young and wild as any deer in those hills beyond. Had it been any enterprising scolding settled ways, had it been merely a breaking of orders and a following of my own will, I suppose I might have gone on. But there were two things which govern an adventure for one of my sex. No tiny be a man, but he must also be a gentleman, I suppose books might be written about the war between those two things. He may be a gentleman sometimes and have credit for being a sort-headed fool, with no daring to approach the very woman who has contempt for him, whereas she may not know his reasons for restraint. So much for civilization, which at times I hated because it brought such problems. Yet these problems never cease, at least while youth lasts, and no gentleman is free from them, even so quiet a one as ours there in the valley of the old Blue Ridge before the wars had rolled across it and made all the young people old.

I was of no mind to end my wilderness and my roaming just yet, and still feeling that I was by gentleness of my Quaker mother and by sternness of my Virginia father set in the class of gentlemen I had no wish dishonorably to engage a woman's heart. Alas, I was not the first to learn that kissing is a most difficult art to practice.

I had enough to do when it came to mounting my horse Satan. Few cared to ride Satan, since it meant a little each time he was mounted. He was a splendid brute, black and clean, with abundant bone in the head and a brilliant eye—blood all over, that was easy to see. Yet he was a murderer at heart. He would fight man, dog or devil, and fear was not in him, nor any real submission. My father always told me that this horse was not fit to ride, but since my father rode him, as he would any horse that offered, nothing would serve me but I must ride Satan also, and so I made him my private saddle on occasion.

I ought to speak of my father, that very brave and kindly gentleman from whom I got what daring I ever had, I suppose. He was a clean cut man five eleven in his stockings, and few men in all that country had a handsomer body. Fair play meant with him something more than fair play for the sake of justice. Temperate to the point of caring always for his body's welfare, as regular in his habits as he was in his promises and their fulfillments, blindingly ready enough at any risk, though never boasting, I always admired him. I fear that at the time I mention now I admired him most for his strength and courage.

"A grand animal you have there, sir," said he, nestoring me. "I did not know his like existed in this country."

"As well in this as in any country," said I tartly. He smiled at this. "You know his breeding?" "Killingwall, out of Bonnie Waters." "No wonder he's vicious," said the stranger calmly.

"Ah, you know something of the English strains," said I. He shrugged his shoulders. "As much as that," he commented indifferently.

"There was something about him I did not fancy, a sort of condescension, as though he were better than those about him. They say that no Virginians have a way of reserving that right to ourselves, and I suppose that a family of clean strain may perhaps become proud after generations of independence and comfort and freedom from care. None the less I was forced to admit this newcomer to the class of gentlemen."

His face, as I now perceived, was long and thin, his chin square, although somewhat narrow. His mouth, too, was narrow, and his teeth were narrow, one of the upper teeth at each side like the tooth of a carnivore, longer than his fellows.

enured at Wallingford village, near our farm, provided he should be at home and able to attend. It was she who in those troublous times just before the civil war was the first to raise the voice in the Quaker meeting, which said that the Friends ought to free their slaves, law or no law, and so started what was called later the Unionist sentiment in that part of old Virginia. Then she asked my father to manumit all his slaves, and he thought for an hour and then raised his head and said it should be done, after which the servants lived on as before and gave less in return, at which my father made very faces, but said nothing in regret. After his others also set free their people, and presently this part of Virginia was a sort of Mecca for escaped blacks. It was my mother did this, and I believe that it was her influence which had much to do with the position of our Virginia on the question of the war. And this also in time had much to do with this strange story of mine and much to do with the presence thereof of the man whom I was to meet that very morning, although when I started to mount my horse Satan I did not know that such a man as Gordon Orme existed in the world.

When I approached Satan he lunged at me, but I caught him by the cheek strap of the bridle and swung his head close up, feeling for the saddle front as he reached for me with open mouth. Then as he curved I swung up with him into place and so felt safe, for once I clamped a horse fair there was an end of his throwing me. I laughed when Miss Grace Sheraton called out in alarm. I wanted something to subdue, and since Satan offered I spurred him back from the gate and rode him hard down toward Wallingford. Of course he picked up a stone en route. Two of us held his head while Billings, the blacksmith, flaked out the stone and tapped the shoe nails tight. After that I had time to look around.

As I did so I saw approaching a gentleman who was looking with interest at my mount. "He was one of the most striking men I have ever seen," a stranger, as I could see, for I knew each family on both sides the blue ridge as far up the valley as White Sulphur.

"A grand animal you have there, sir," said he, nestoring me. "I did not know his like existed in this country."

"As well in this as in any country," said I tartly. He smiled at this. "You know his breeding?" "Killingwall, out of Bonnie Waters." "No wonder he's vicious," said the stranger calmly.

"Ah, you know something of the English strains," said I. He shrugged his shoulders. "As much as that," he commented indifferently.

"There was something about him I did not fancy, a sort of condescension, as though he were better than those about him. His face, as I now perceived, was long and thin, his chin square, although somewhat narrow. His mouth, too, was narrow, and his teeth were narrow, one of the upper teeth at each side like the tooth of a carnivore, longer than his fellows.

His hair was very thick and close cut to his head, dark and if the least bit gray about the edges requiring close scrutiny to prove it so. In color his skin was dark, sunburned beyond tan almost to parchment dryness. His eyes were gray, the most remarkable eyes that I have ever seen—calm, emotionless, direct, the most fearless eyes I have ever seen in mortal head, and I have looked into many men's eyes in my time. He was taller than most men, I think above the six feet line. His figure was thin, his limbs thin, his hands and feet slender. He did not look one-tenth his strength. He was simply dressed—dressed, indeed, as a gentleman. He stood as one, spoke as comes from Dr. J. T. Curtis, Dwight, Kan. He writes, "I not only have cured bad cases of eczema in my patients with Electric Bitters, but also cured myself by them of the same disease. I feel sure they will benefit any case of eczema." This shows what thousands have proved, that Electric Bitters is a most effective blood purifier. Its an excellent remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. one and assumed that all the world accepted him as one. His voice was warmer in accent than even our Virginia speech. I saw him to be an Englishman.

"He is a bit hasty, that one," He nodded his head toward Satan. I grinned. "I know of only two men in Fairfax county I'd back to ride him."

"Yourself and—"

"My father."

"By Jove! How old is your father, my good fellow?"

"Sixty, my good fellow," I replied. He laughed.

"Well," said he, "there's a third in Fairfax county I'd back to ride him."

"Meaning yourself?"

He nodded carelessly. I did not share his confidence. "He's not a sadder in any sense," said I. "We keep him for the farms."

"Oh, I say, my friend," he rejoined—"my name's Orme, Gordon Orme—I'm just stopping here at the inn for a time, and I'm decidedly bored! I've not had a leg over a decent mount since I've been here, and if I might ride this beggar I'd be awfully obliged."

My jaw may have dropped at his words, I am not sure. It was not that he called our little tavern an "inn." It was the name he gave me which caused me to start.

CLAY'S UNFORTUNATE LETTERS.

By A. W. MACY.

In 1844 Henry Clay was a formidable candidate for the presidency. He failed, however, and two letters which he wrote during the campaign contributed materially to his defeat. One was called the "Alabama letter," because it was written at Raleigh, N. C., while he was "awing round the circle." It was published in the National Intelligencer, and among other things it contained this sentence: "Texas ought not to be received into the Union, as an integral part of it, in decided opposition to the wishes of a considerable and respectable portion of the Confederacy." This created a great hubbub in political circles (which then included almost everybody), so he wrote another letter in explanation. This is called the "Alabama letter," because it was first published in an Alabama paper. In the course of it he said he would be glad to see Texas annexed, if it could be done "without dishonor, without war, with the common consent of the Union, on just and fair terms." But the explanation was no more satisfactory than the original, for the hubbub and dissatisfaction were greater than ever, and the great champion of compromise went down to defeat.

A THOROUGH TEST.

Cures that last are cures that count.

Doan's Kidney Pills make thorough cures.

The following case is typical. Janesville residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the cure lasted.

Proof like this cannot be ignored.

Mrs. William Mohr, 310 N. Academy St., Janesville, Wis., says: "About two years ago I had an attack of kidney trouble and at that time I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's Drug Store. The use of only two boxes cured me. Other members of my family have taken Doan's Kidney Pills with satisfactory results and I therefore know this remedy to be a reliable one." (Statement given in August 1908.)

THE BENEFIT LASTED.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Police man's Woes.

Stranger demands are often made at police stations than the most improbable situations in fiction, but the climax, in the minds of the officers at the East Dedham street station, came when a young woman entered the building breathlessly and wanted three canaries fed and watered. The lieutenant was about to give her the address of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals when she explained that she had been put out of her room by her landlady and had been unable to take her pet birds with her. The lieutenant detailed an officer to protect the young woman, the landlady proved not as hard hearted as her lodger had feared, and the canaries were given enough water and seed to sing merrily.—Boston Post.

Nothing in it.

"I don't believe there's anything in what the joke papers say." "What's the matter?" "My daughter's been a stenographer four years now, and her boss hasn't asked her to marry him yet."

DOCTORS ADVISE OPERATIONS

Saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Swarthmore, Penn.—"For fifteen years I suffered untold agony, and for one period of nearly two years I had hemorrhages and the doctors told me I would have to undergo an operation, but I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am in good health now. I am all over the Change of Life and cannot praise your Vegetable Compound too highly. Every woman should take it at that time. I recommend it to both old and young for female troubles."—Mrs. EMILY SUMMERSGILL, Swarthmore, Pa.

Baltimore, Md.—"My troubles began with the loss of a child, and I had hemorrhages for four months. The doctors said an operation was necessary, but I dreaded it and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The medicine has made me a new woman and I feel strong and do my own work."—Mrs. J. R. PICKING, 1200 Sargeant St., Baltimore, Md.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, it is not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

New Ice Craft.
Thousands of persons who gather along the Shrewsbury river to witness the annual iceboat and scoter races started in amusement when something that appeared to be a rocket from the skies shot over the ice, passing the ice boats as if they were at a standstill. When the weird looking craft was brought to a stop at the north end of the course the crowd swarmed about the contrivance and found it to be a small sized runabout automobile transformed into what may be called an autoscooter. The autoscooter was constructed by Fred Waters of Red Bank.—New York American.

While Woodrow Wilson was in Chattanooga on his recent tour one of the features of the program arranged for his entertainment was an automobile sightseeing trip through the city. As the party slowed up from time to time at some particularly interesting point the colored chauffeur volunteered bits of local information. They were passing the new city hall and Mr. Wilson read aloud the date on the cornerstone—1909 A. D. "George," remarked one of the party, addressing the chauffeur, "can you tell us what the A. D. stands for?" "Sut-tinly, boss, sut-tinly," responded George, without the quiver of an eyelid—"Why, dat dere 'A. D.' stands for 'all done.'"

Facts From Ford

The general utility of the automobile has ceased to be a matter of debate. There is no question that the motor car has become a part of the environment, not only of the social but of the business life of the people. It is no longer an expensive luxury to be enjoyed only by the wealthy classes; the motor car has become the vehicle of the masses.

The Question to Be Considered is "Which Car Will I Buy" and This Advertisement, We Believe, Is a Satisfactory Answer to That Question.

Ford Model T is a light weight car—1200 pounds—the lightest in weight—size, capacity and power considered—in the world; and because of this light weight (made possible by the use of Vanadium steel) it is the least expensive car to operate, not alone in gasoline and oil, but its tire wear. Figure it out for yourself.

It costs twice as much to move 2000 pounds as it does to move 1000 pounds. Depreciation through use, is more than twice as much on $1380 as on $690; tires cost in proportion to size and wear in proportion to friction and strain of weight placed upon them.

The power of the car is not determined by the horsepower of its motor, but by the relation of the motor's power to the weight it has to move.

Most motor dealers publish all the particulars of their cars except the weight. If weight is an advantage why not advertise it with other features?

Every Ford dealer, and there are several thousand of them in this country, carries—all the time—a complete supply of Ford parts, just for Ford owners. Ford branches are located in every principal city and serve as wholesale houses, supplying Ford Dealers and Ford Owners in the surrounding country with parts. Enormous warehouses are located at Kansas City, Mo., and Long Island City, N. Y., that a still greater efficiency of Ford Service for Ford Owners may be assured. You can scarcely drive fifty miles in any direction that you do not find a Ford dealer, and when you find one he is able, instantly, to meet your wants.

No other motor car on the market assures you the same service.

Buy the Ford Model T and you will have a car possessing at once all comforts and conveniences desired in a family touring—all the speed, reliability, serviceability, durability, in a runabout car or roadster desired by the professional and business men for purely business purposes; giving at the same time those exhilarating pleasures and the healthfulness which can alone be brought to you in the wider scope of out of door life. With the Ford Model T car the country is made part of the city, and the city is made next-door neighbor to the farm. These sturdy standard cars have demonstrated their superiority for years past. More than 10,000 Ford cars are in daily use all over the country.

The Ford Model T is the best motor car for you to buy because it is standard, no material change having been made in the chassis or car proper in five years—just little refinements here and there making them more convenient to owners, together with the natural changes in body designs. The Ford Model T car is well called the car of Vanadium Steel, because it is the only motor car in which Vanadium Steel is used exclusively in construction.

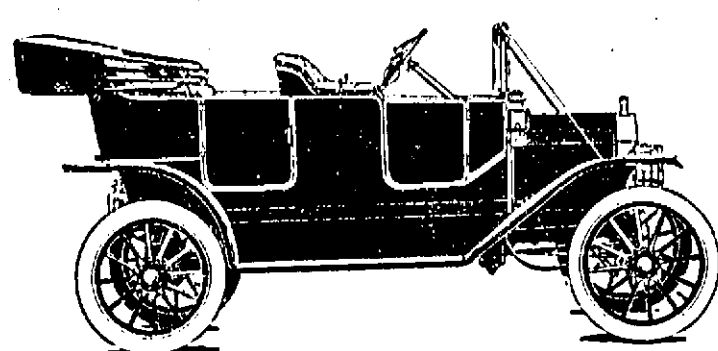

Ford Model T cars are the only four-cylinder cars in the world at the same low prices quoted in this announcement.

Ford Model T cars have been tested for years and have proven their superior worth over all road conditions. They never compromise with a hill or sandy spot but go up and over on high speed without any trouble whatever. This is more than any other motor car will do. We ask you to buy a Ford Model T car because it is a better car, not because it is a cheaper car. Keep this truth in mind when you are buying a motor car, and make the comparison we urge.

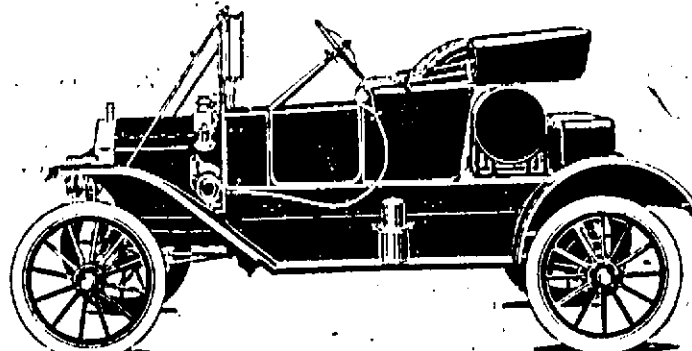

We make immediate deliveries of all Ford Model T Cars.

Now throw all prejudice aside, satisfy yourself of the car's performance, satisfy yourself of the car's running expense, consider the first cost last. Remember we sell the Ford Model T car on the merits of the car, saving in price is entirely an extra advantage. We're anxious to give you a practical demonstration. Come and take one.
